2017

Atlanta, GA

The Transformational Inquiry model can help your students explore their own identities, share stories and thoughts with their peers, learn more through reading and research, and ultimately take personal, collaborative action to affect social change in their communities.

2017 THEME: Creating Identity-Safe Classrooms

"What will distinguish those who thrive will be their ability to understand what makes their fellow woman or man tick, to forge relationships, and to care for others." - Daniel Pink, A Whole New Mind

Develop valuable skills:

- Facilitate dynamic discussions in a safe and empathetic environment.
- Encourage students to think and talk objectively about complex and sensitive issues related to race, gender, and social class.
- Help students build strong, positive identities.
- Help students cultivate valuable communication, critical thinking, and writing skills.
- Strengthen your teacher identity to better you students in growth and self-discovery.
- Develop a supportive community for ongoing diversity leadership.

Our People

Institute directors Martha Caldwell and Oman Frame are co-founders of iChange Collaborative Consulting. They train teachers, administrators, and students in diversity education, global competency, and social emotional learning. They also teach integrated middle school humanities curricula at the Paideia School in Atlanta, Georgia. Their Transformational Inquiry model addresses identity and individuation through diversity education, social emotional curricula, and inquiry learning. They consult with schools and offer workshops for teachers, students and community leaders.

Testimonials

"The work that Martha and Oman are doing is revolutionary. Students create, sustain and evaluate critical conversations around race, gender and orientation. The result is student-led curriculum design."

-Dr. Karen Weller Swanson,
Director of PhD Program Curriculum and Instruction,
Mercer University

"Thank you for coming to our school. Don't stop what you are doing, please!

-Student, Bellevue IB Middle School

"My daughter's ability to listen, understand and empathize was sharpened by this experience - as was her ability to present her point of view. I believe these skills will serve her well in her future academic and professional work"

-Parent

"This kind of curriculum should be taught in every school. This is truly 21st century education."

-Conference attendee, American Middle Levels Educators Association

"This workshop changed my life!"

-Traci Lerner, teacher
Woodward Academy

"Best diversity conference in ATL!! Highly recommended. Thanks, Oman Frame and Martha Caldwell.

-Keith White, Director Community Outreach
Holy Innocents Episcopal School

This was awesome!!!!

-Student workshop attendee

"I am so inspired by the work Martha and Oman are doing. I know of no one else doing this kind of work with students at this formative age."

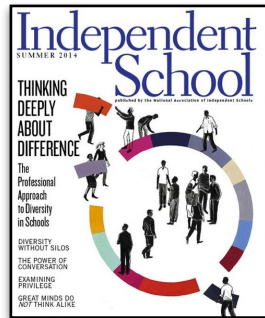

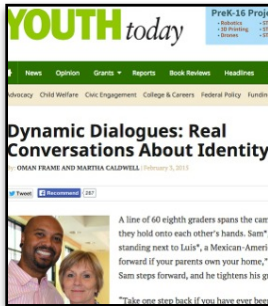

-Vanessa Jackson
Consultant and Diversity Trainer
Healing Circle, Inc.

"Martha and Oman created an incredibly successful program that fostered thoughtful dialogue among a diverse group of individuals. In addition, it was just an honor and privilege to begin to work with talented and passionate professional colleagues.

-Gregory Mancini
Director, Princeton Summer Journalism Program
Teacher, Paideia School
